

MAN'S TRIUMPH OVER BEAST.

Prof Gleason Easily Tames a Remarkably Vicious Colt.

Kindness and Will Power More Effective Than Harsh Methods.

To the average spectator Prof. Oscar R. Gleason appears to be endowed with some mysterious power which enables him to subdue the most vicious horse, and effectively cure it of any predilection for bucking, kicking, shying or any other "ings" in the horse category.

He has a power, but it is by no means mysterious, as it consists mainly of a strong will, iron hand and a thorough knowledge of equine tricks.

One of the grandest struggles between man and beast that has ever been seen, was witnessed by an EVENING WORLD reporter the other evening at the Professor's training quarters.

At the recent sale of California trotting stock, at the American Institute, E. C. Eastman, of 6 West Seventieth street, bought a magnificent concert-style Martin guitars, orange and back; pearl machine head; leather case; $100, cost $100, new and in perfect condition. Andrew Guitars, 27 Evening World.

ROAD HORSE: 2,400 perfect in all details; well established, good riding, good trotting, good driving, $100 each. 50 East 48th St., New York.

BULLY to exchange for smaller size, have 202.

With Expert Columbia, nickel and enamel finish, in good condition, same make.

A NYTHING in diamonds, solid gold, silver, &c.

<div data-bbox="125 1668 2